Walk-in session and Linck Pavilion presentation

You are very welcome to join a walk-in session on May 22, 2025, at the square near Humperdincklaan/Karel de Grotelaan. Between 5:30 PM and 7:00 PM, Woonbedrijf and Heijmans will be there to answer your questions.

We will also show the plans for the Linck Pavilion. This temporary pavilion will be placed on the square during the groundworks and building of the new project INCK. Woonbedrijf and Gemeente Eindhoven are building this pavilion so that Stichting Blaarthem and other local groups can meet, organize events, and talk with neighbors.

INCK is the name of the new building. It refers to the history of this place. For many years, two schools were here — including the Grafisch Lyceum — in the Blaarthem neighborhood. It was a place of creativity — and it will be again. INCK is about connection, and about mixing people and purposes. Living and activities go together here, like ink on a colorful palette.

The name LINCK is a playful reference to INCK. It also shows the teamwork between all the groups that will use the pavilion.

Demolition and site preparation

The last phase of the demolition is now finished. The old building materials were crushed using special equipment. This crushed stone will be reused to make parts of the ground firm during construction. In the coming weeks, no heavy work will happen. New activities will begin in autumn, when the land will be prepared for building. This includes cutting some trees, installing a sewer system, and connecting it to the existing system, for example in Humperdincklaan. We will share more information about this later.

Environmental Permit

On April 4, 2025, Gemeente Eindhoven decided to grant the environmental permit for the project. There is a six-week objection period, starting the day after the decision was sent by the municipality. The permit becomes final after these six weeks — or after any objection or legal appeal has been handled.
